ABSTRACT

This Drug Prevention Training Project focused on teaching school personnel to work with students involved in drugs and/or alcohol. This report evaluates the success of this effort which took place during the 1991-1992 academic year. The Project sought to accomplish six objectives: (1) recruit and train 800 school counselors, psychologists, nurses, and social workers; (2) hold eight half-day follow-up regional training meetings; (3) have at least 80% of the participants express increased confidence in counseling students referred to them for drug involvement; (4) build four regional support networks; (5) develop a script outline for program transmission via satellite; and (6) present to participants a model student database and tracking system. All six tasks were completed and the evaluator judged the program a success. Organizers completed all objectives and participants rated highly the training they received. Included in this evaluation are six appendices which feature copies of meeting announcements and agendas, evaluation results, resources, networking plans, and a networking directory. (RJM)

Section 1 Introduction

The Los Angeles County Office of Education (LACOE) serves as an intermediate agency between the California Department of Education and the 95 local school districts (K-14) which are located within the boundaries of the county. As of January 1991 the popi-lation of Los Angeles County exceeded nine million people. At that time, within the county, there were 1,660 schools (K-12) with a total enrollment of more than 1,441,000 (K-12) students.

The grant from the U.S. Department of Education (USDOE) that supported this Drug Frevention Training Project was submitted in June 1991 for the 1991-1992 academic year. That grant proposal focused on the following target group and need:

Target Population: The target population for the proposal is the estimated 2,800 counselors, psychologists, nurses, and social workers in the public schools in Los Angeles County. The category breakdowns are approximately 1,322 counselors, 682 psychologists, 800 nurses, and 25 social workers. These school personnel are schools' first line of defense against student drug and alcohol involvement. Students with actual or potential drug and alcohol problems are generally referred to them first.

Need: Congress recognized the importance of training school counselors to work with students involved in drugs and alcohol by mandating their training in the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act of 1986. School districts staffs in Los Angeles County recognize their need for this training and have requested Los Angeles County Office of Education's assistance in obtaining the training. Investigation reveals that only about 15% of counselor personnel in the school districts in the county have had any drug counseling training.

Briefly, the six objectives of this Drug Prevention Training Project were identified in the grant application as follows:

- Recruit and train at least 800 school counselors, psychologists, nurses, and social workers in four one-day-long regional training meetings about drug prevention and intervention techniques and procedures.
- Hold at least eight follow-up regional half-day training meetings.

- 3) Find that at least 80% of program participants will, by way of a questionnaire, express increased confidence in counseling students referred to them for drug involvement.
- 4) Build four regional support networks for school counselors, psychologists, nurses, and social workers responsible for drug prevention and intervention.
- 5) Develop a script outline for program transmission over LACOE's Educational Telecommunications Network (ETN).
- 6) Expose participants to a LACOE-developed model student substance abuse database and student tracking system.

With the possible exception of Objective 5, all other objectives can be seen as helping the project become institutionalized. Training district personnel to a high level of confidence, establishing networks, and encouraging participants to consider tracking student outcomes certainly encourage institutionalization.

Section 2 Acknowledgments

Those who developed the grant proposal should be recognized and thanked. In addition, the project created an advisory committee and the members who served on that committee should also be recognized and thanked.

Proposal Developers

The Drug Prevention Training Project for Counselors and Other Support Services Personnel proposal was submitted to the U.S. Department of Education, June 21, 1991, for the school year 1991-1992. The proposal was developed by Dr. Alice Healy-Sesno, consultant-in-charge, Division of Educational Support Services, Los Angeles County Office of Education, with the assistance of Mr. James Benavides, consultant, Pupil Services; Mrs. Susan Lordi, consultant, School Health Services; and Mr. Joseph Payne, consultant, Proposal Planning Center.

Project Managers

After the project was funded, Dr. Sesno became the project director and Mr. Benavides became the project coordinator. After Mr. Benavides took a promotion, Mr. Bill Aston became project coordinator by way of a Los Angeles County Office of Education contract consultancy. In taking the position, Mr. Aston came out of retirement after having served for many years as the coordinator for secondary counseling services for the Los Angeles Unified School District.

Advisory Committee

There were fourteen members of the project's advisory committee. Those who served are listed below:

Member	District or Office
Molly de Leon, assistant principal	Paramount Unified School District
Glenn Dodd, consultant Center for Health Education	Los Angeles County Office of Education
Mike Donnelly, counselor	Alhambra City and High School Districts
Lydia Estep, counselor	Azusa Unified School District
Villa Frierson, coordinator Pupil Personnel Services	Compton Unified School District
Leo Gallegos, psychologist	Montebello Unified School District
Judy Garvey, counselor	Torrance Unified School District
Judy James, coordinator Drug, Alcohol, Tobacco Education	South Bay Union High School District
Susan Lordi, consultant School Health Services	Los Angeles County Office of Education .
Fran Ramirez, assistant principal Secondary Counseling	Los Angeles Unified School District
Warren Sapp, counselor	Whittier Union High School District

George Sarandoz Intervention Advisor Los Angeles Unified School District

Robin Sinks, counselor

Long Beach Unified School District

Leslie Tuchman, psychologist

Glendale Unified School District

Members of the project's advisory committee represented a number of districts as well as various ethnic groups and included counselors, nurses, psychologists, and consultants.

Section 3 Results of the Evaluator's Data Gathering and Analysis

Ideally, the Project evaluator would be involved from the inception of an externally funded project. Fortunately, this was the case for this "Drug Prevention Training Project." Early on, the members of the grant application writing team worked with the evaluator so that the necessary data collection procedures would be built into the project's objectives. In this way, the needed data collection and analysis procedures became part of the grant application. In addition, the evaluator stayed in touch with both the project manager and project coordinator throughout the project year. Moreover, the evaluator attended meetings of the project's advisory committee as well as the subcommittee on evaluation.

As a result of the good communication between the evaluator and both the project director and project coordinator, data needed for the evaluation were easily collected during the project year. These data and their analysis form the foundation on which the evaluator based his findings together with his conclusion as to whether or not each project objective was attained.

Objective 1

By the end of the Program year, the Drug Prevention Training Project for Counselors and Other Support Services Personnel will recruit and train at least 800 school counselors, psychologists, nurses, and social workers in four one-day-long regional training meetings about drug prevention and intervention techniques and procedures. (Evidence: Agendas and Attendance records.)

As called for by the objective, four one-day-long regional training meetings were held. In addition, a fifth one-day-long "culmination" meeting was also held. The fifth meeting occurred in response to requests for "more!" from participants at the four regional training meetings. The decision to hold the fifth meeting at the Torrance Marriott was made by the project's advisory committee after they had received a report of the attendee's requests. Those requests were noted on the feedback forms which were distributed and collected at the end of each of the four regional training meetings.

More detailed information on the five meetings is shown below in Table 1.

Note: Some double counting may have occurred since an unknown number of participants may have attended one of the first four meetings as well as the last one.

Agendas and results of participants' evaluations for the all day training meetings are shown in Appendix A.

Conclusion

This objective was a tained. During the year 1991-1992 school year more than 800 school counselors, psychologists, nurses, and social workers were trained in drug prevention and intervention techniques and procedures.

Notation #1

A variety of materials from the federal government, state government, and private vendors was assembled and made available at no charge to participants who attended the first four all day training meetings shown above in Table 1. This included a twenty-five minute video on "Drugs and Youth: The Challenge." (Please see Appendix B) The future availability of these materials can prove helpful in the institutionalization of the project.

Notation #2

Participants who attended any of the four all-day training sessions were given a "Certificate of Participation." (Please see Appendix C.)

Objective 2

By the end of the Program year, the Drug Prevention Project for Counselors and Other Support Services Personnel will hold at least eight follow-up regional half-day training meetings (two meetings in each of four regions) for participants who attended the day-long training meetings. (Evidence: Agendas and attendance records.)

Instead of holding eight follow-up regional half-day training meetings, the project held six half-day and one "extended" (more than half-day) day training meetings. The extended day session was the one held at Loyola Marymount University on July 10, 1992. Please see Table 2 below.

Table 2

Note: The training meeting held at Loyola Marymount was an "extended" meeting that was longer than the six half-day meetings.

The objective called for eight half-day training sessions which would equal four full days of training. If the equivalent of four full days of training occurred in seven, instead of eight sessions, the objective could be considered as having been attained. A review of the meeting announcements shows that each half-day meeting lasted three hours, since each started at 9 a.m. and ended at noon. Participants were then on their own for lunch and did not return. For the seventh extended day to equal two half-days of training (three hours each), the extended day would need to consist of six hours.

A review of the announcement for the Loyola Marymount meeting shows that whereas the six half-day sessions ended at noon, the Loyola meeting included a break for lunch and a return to the training in the afternoon.

Conclusion

The Loyola Marymount extended meeting is judged to be roughly equivalent to two half-day training sessions. For this reason, Objective 2 is judged to have been attained.

Notation #1

As noted under Objective 1, a number of materials were made available to those who attended training meetings. Those participants who attended the seven meetings shown in Table 2 above were given a copy of the following paperback book:

Notation #2

At the end of the seven training sessions listed in Table 2, participants evaluated the training they had received by way of a questionnaire. Results of those evaluations are shown in Appendix D.

Objective 3

By the end of the Program year, as a result of participating in the Drug Prevention Training Project for Counselors and Other Support Services Personnel, at least 80% of the Project participants who attend all training meetings will express increased confidence in counseling students referred to them for drug involvement. (Evidence: Results of a project-developed questionnaire.)

ጸ

Three different questionnaires were used to measure the participants' expression of "increased confidence in counseling students referred to them for drug involvement." The first questionnaire was given to participants who attended the first four meetings. At the conclusion of those four meetings, the relevant question on the questionnaire they completed read as follows:

Question: "My participation in this training Program has provided me with increased confidence to counsel students

referred for drug involvement."

Response

Categories: "Yes" and "No."

Detailed information on the four meetings is shown below in Table 3.

The second questionnaire was given to participants who attended the next seven meetings. The relevant prompt on the questionnaire they completed read as follows:

The third questionnaire was given to participants who attended the last or "culmination" meeting held on October 23, 1992, at the Torrance Marriott Hotel. The relevant prompt on the questionnaire they completed read as follows:

Prompt:

"One of the main goals of this Workshop is to provide support services personnel with increased confidence in order to counsel students referred for substance abuse more effectively. Please rate degree to which that goal was met by this event."

Note: Some double counting may have occurred since an unknown number of participants may have attended one of the first four meetings as well as the last one.

Conclusion

This objective was attained. It called for eighty percent (80%) of participants to express "increased confidence in counseling students . . ." and more than ninety percent (90%) did. This is true regardless of whether one looks at the results of the three questionnaires separately or combined.

Objective 4

By the end of the Project year, the Drug Prevention Training Project for Counselors and Other Support Services Personnel will have built at least four regional support networks for school counselors, psychologists, nurses, social workers, and other school personnel responsible for drug prevention and intervention. (Evidence: Description and list of members of each network.)

As mentioned earlier, there were four all day training sessions. Those occurred on the following dates:

- March 6, 1992
- March 20, 1992
- April 3, 1992
- April 7, 1992

During each of those sessions, a form entitled, "Networking Plans" was distributed to the attendees. (See Appendix E.) Participants in the four training sessions were told the following:

A directory of conference attendees interested in sharing information, resources, strategies, and techniques related to drug prevention and intervention programs, will be prepared and distributed to interested participants.

Those listed in the directory may wish to continue meeting in dyads or small groups to share on-going concerns, develop solutions, and grow together in confidence and expertise. It is our feeling that by engaging in such networking activities you will develop even greater confidence in your drug counseling skills.

If you are interested in participating in such networking activities and wish to be listed in the directory, please complete and return this form today.

A directory of those who indicated an interest in joining a network was then prepared and distributed to all respondents in the four geographical areas. (See Appendix F.)

Conclusion

This objective was attained. Four regional support networks were created.

Objective 5

By the end of the Project year, the Drug Prevention Training Project for Counselors and Other Support Services Personnel will develop a script outline for program transmission over LACOE's Educational Telecommunications Network (ETN) for school support services personnel about drug prevention techniques and procedures. (Evidence: Completed script outline.)

Through its ETN division, the Los Angeles County Office of Education (LACOE) operates a professional television studio and beams, via an "up link" dish, educational programs onto and off of satellites. Selected information related to this Drug Prevention Training Project was to be "scripted" so that at a later time a television program on this topic might be completed and beamed to school districts within the county.

A script outline was indeed prepared and a number of discussions were held with personnel from the ETN division. For the script outline, please see Appendix G.

Conclusion

The task was completed but not quite before the end of the project year (October 31, 1992) as called for in this objective.

Objective 6

By the end of the Project year, the Drug Prevention Training Project for Counselors and Othet Support Services Personnel will expose participants to a LACOE-developed model student substance abuse database and tracking system that includes data elements of students' (1) level of knowledge about drugs, (2) attitudes about various drugs, (3) decision-making processes, and (4) use of drugs. (Evidence: Agenda reviews of the database presentations, and/or by follow-up questionnaires about participants use or intended use of this or another system.)

It was noted earlier that there were four full-day training sessions:

- March 6, 1992
- March 20, 1992
- April 3, 1992
- April 7, 1992

Under Objective 4 it was mentioned that attendees at those sessions received a data card to complete if they wished to join a network.

At those same meetings they also heard a presentation on the LACOE-developed model student substance abuse database and tracking system. Furthermore, they each received a blank two-page scantron questionnaire form used by that system.

Some years earlier, a LACOE consultant had worked with the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Office to evaluate the SANE program developed by the Sheriff's office. After that, the data gathering and analysis service related to that form—as well as the form itself—were made available to all school districts within the service area of Los Angeles County. The title and logo on the questionnaire as seen in the appendix can be changed at the school district's request. It was this form and these services which Objective 6 sought to have described to the participants in this Drug Prevention Training Project. (See Appendix H)

As of 1992 there were sixteen (16) school districts from which one or more schools had chosen to be involved in the LACOE survey data gathering and analysis service. These districts were:

- ABC USD
- Arcadia USD
- Castaic Union SD
- Duarte USD
- El Rancho USD
- Lancaster SD
- Los Arigeles USD
- Lowell Joint SD

- Lynwood USD
- Pasadena USD
- Pomona USD
- San Marino USD
- South Pasadena USD
- Temple City SD
- Torrance USD
- Walnut Valley USD

However, it cannot be stated as certain that these districts were using the LACOE student survey service because of their exposure to it by way of Objective 6 of this Drug Prevention Training Project.

Conclusion

This objective was attained. Participants in this project were exposed to a student survey data gathering and tracking service.

Section 4 Summary and Conclusion

During the 1991-1992 school year, the Drug Prevention Training Project sought to accomplish six objectives. They were:

- 1) Recruit and train 800 school counselors, psychologist, nurses, and social workers.
- 2) Hold eight half-day follow-up regional training meetings.
- 3) See at least 80% of the participants express increased confidence in counseling students referred to them for drug involvement.
- 4) Build four regional support networks.
- 5) Develop a script outline for program transmission via satellite.

6) Present to participants a model student database and tracking system.

All six tasks were completed. However, the completion of the script outline (Objective 5) took place shortly after the end of the 1991-1992 project year. Some slippage in time frequently occurs and this slight delay is not seen as a problem, especially since the development of an ETN televised program was, according to the grant application, to be a future possibility.

In conclusion, the evaluator found the program to be quite successful. All tasks were completed and participants rated very highly the training they received. Moreover, program implementation was directly in line with the intentions expressed in the grant application.

THE TRUE PREVENTION TRAINING PROGRAM FOR SUPPORT SERVICES PERSONNEL

The Division of Educational Support Services of the Los Angeles County Office of Education under a grant from the United States Department of Education's Drog-Free Schools and Communities Counselor Training Program is sponsoring a drug prevention training program for district support services personnel.

The purpose of the training program is to provide participants with increased confidence in counseling students referred for drug involvement. Practical information related to drug counseling will be provided to enable support services personnel to become more effective in student drug and alcohol prevention and intervention techniques and procedures.

Support services personnel serving at-risk youth and their families within a diverse multicultural community will learn how to contend with school policies, legal issues, emergency situations, and the use of referral resources. A wide variety of materials will be provided for each participant.

I would appreciate your providing a copy of this bulletin to any other support services personnel, including school social workers who might be interested in this training.

There is no registration fee to attend the training program. For your convenience, the training program will be held at four different geographical locations. Continuing education units for registered nurses (6hours/6 CEUs) are available through provider number 00454. NBCC credit has been approved for participants who qualify.

Progression Of Chemical Dependence And Recovery In Adolescents

This article makes it clear that chemical dependence is a primary, chronic, progressive, psychological, biochemical, genetic, and relapsing disease that effects adolescents as well as adults. Adolescents appear to exhibit an increased vulnerability of Susceptibility to chemical dependence. The differing dynamics in adolescent addiction are varied and must be understood to make successful recovery an attainable goal for adolescents.

NETWORKING PLANS

A directory of conference attendees interested in sharing information, resources, strategies, and techniques related to drug prevention and intervention programs, will be prepared and distributed to interested participants.

Those listed in the directory may wish to continue meeting in dyads or small groups to share ongoing concerns, develop solutions, and grow together in confidence and expertise. It is our feeling that by engaging in such networking activities you will develop even greater confidence in your drug counseling skills.

If you are interested in participating in such networking activities and wish to be listed in the directory, please complete and return this form today.

The U.S. Department of Education's Drug-Free Schools and Communities Grant provided the resources for the Los Angeles County Office of Education's Drug Prevention Training Program for Counselors and Support Services Personnel. These training experiences were held at locations geographically friendly to the 82 K-12 school districts within Los Angeles County.

In addition to the primary objectives of presenting training experiences, and distributing relevant support material, a further objective of the grant was the establishment of regional support networks that could serve as resources and provide other cooperative benefits for support personnel. This directory was developed to address that objective.

At the initial training sessions, participants were given the opportunity to be listed in the resource/networking directory. It is suggested that the directory be used as a guide to obtain and share information about support services programs. It may also serve as a resource to locate speakers, set up regional meetings, and facilitate on-site visitations.

The Networking Directory contains a "Hotlines/Info/Referrals" list as an example of how information may be shared among networking participants. Telephone numbers change frequently and should be checked before using as a referral.

For futher assistance or questions regarding the networking program, please call Mr. Bill Aston, project coordinator, at (310) 922-6393.

Drug Prevention Training for Counselors and Support Services Personnel

Los Angeles County Office of Education (LACOE) Educational Telecommunications Network (ETN)

Script Outline

The following script outline for a drug prevention training program for counselors and support personnel evolved from a series of training sessions conducted by the Los Angeles County Office of Education under a grant from the U.S. Department of Education's Drug-Free Schools and Communities Program.

The program has been developed to serve counselors, nurses, prohologists, and social workers who are providing support services in public schools in Los Angeles County, many of whom have had little or no specific drug counseling training.

The program* is planned for a one-half hour presentation that includes twenty minutes for review of the major issues of drug use and a ten minute question and answer period that would be extended at the close of the program.

- L Role of support personnel
 - A. Responsibilities
 B. Limitations

 - C. Legal issues and confidentiality
- II. Overview of drug use
 - A. Current drugs in use
 - 1. Description of drugs and paraphernalia
 - 2. Drug pharmacology
 B. Signs and symptoms of drug use
 - C. Four stages of drug use
- III. Counseling techniques and strategies to serve students, parents, and teachers
 - A. Techniques for recognizing enabling as a system that supports drug use
 - B. Techniques for penetrating the denial system of the dependent and co-dependent
 - C. Techniques for conducting support groups for students affected by chemical dependence
- IV. School and community resources
 - A. Student assistance programs
 - 1. Descriptions
 - Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE)
 - b. Substance Abuse and Narcotics Education (SANE)
 - ._ IMPACT Secondary program equivalent to DARE 2. Where to get help in setting up a support program
 - B. Community referral resources

 - 1. 12-Step programs—description
